Cathryn Wiles-Pickard is a Sister of Mercy who was a Catholic Primary School Teacher for many years and during that time held a number of Senior Positions. She has a Graduate Diploma in Religious Education and was Religious Education Advisor for Primary Schools in the Auckland Diocese for a number of years. Cathryn worked in the Tribunal Office of the Catholic Church NZ for sixteen years. She has a Diploma in Canon Law Practice. Cathryn gained her Spiritual Director qualification through the Spiritual Growth Ministries NZ. She facilitates Reflection Days on the understanding and practice of Meditation and also leads the regular Meditation groups. Cathryn facilitates Retreats throughout the year. Cathryn is our contact person when you are enquiring for Spiritual Direction/Companioning.

Rev Dr David Crawley

David Crawley has offered spiritual direction and supervision for around 20 years. He engages in this work at Te Ngakau Waiora most Fridays, and for the rest of the week teaches spiritual formation and pastoral care at Laidlaw College. David is an ordained priest in his local Anglican church in Titirangi, is married to Sarah, and has three adult children. He enjoys involvement with Spiritual Growth Ministries (www.sgm.org.nz), walking, music (especially jazz!) and good movies.

Rev John Fawcett

John Fawcett is an ordained Anglican Priest and Spiritual Director. For 25 years, he worked internationally with Humanitarian Organisations with a primary focus on Resilience and Coping in conflict and disaster contexts. John still provides services to NGO's and individuals internationally on request. He believes that we, along with all of creation, are created in order to thrive, not merely survive. As we discern the pathways we are individually and together called on throughout life we draw closer to this meaning and grow as we are intended to grow. Spiritual Companionship is recognition that this is a whanau journey, one that no-one walks alone.

Laetitia Puthenpadath

Laetitia Puthenpadath is a member of Anashim Community, a group of vowed women in the Catholic Diocese of Auckland. She has a Masters Degree in Science.
